MAY MORNING

I lie stretched out upon the window-seat And doze, and read a page or two, and doze,

And feel the air like water on me close, Great waves of sunny air that lip and beat

With a small noise, monotonous and sweet, Against the window — and the scent of cool,

Frail flowers by some brown and dew-drenched pool Possesses me from drowsy head to feet.

Stephen Vincent Benét
(1898-1943)
