

PREPARE FOR HURRICANE SEASON

with Allegro Senior Living

ARE YOU PREPARED FOR HURRICANE SEASON?
WE ARE.

As hurricane season approaches, it's crucial for seniors and their families to be well-prepared for potential storms. At Allegro Senior Living, the well-being and safety of our residents and staff are our top priorities.

We have comprehensive contingency plans and robust security measures in place, ensuring our residents can have peace of mind during this time.

Power Continuity In the event of a power outage, our state-of-the-art generator guarantees continuous electricity and the ability to serve three hot meals daily to our residents.

Essential Supplies We maintain a substantial stock of food and water, far exceeding the recommended hurricane preparedness standards. Our plans include information about the supplies that are in stock and the processes that each department follows in preparation for and during a hurricane.

Dedicated Staff Our team, including associates, nurses, maintenance personnel, and care partners, will be on-site 24/7 throughout the storm to provide support and care. Each department head has compiled a checklist for their area so that appropriate steps are taken at each stage of a developing storm.

BUILT TO RESIST

Our building was specifically designed with hurricane preparedness in mind. The windows and building are compliant with pertinent building codes. This includes windows designed to comply with High Velocity Hurricane Zone designations with a missile impact rating of "Large and Small Missile Impact Resistant."

If you have questions or concerns about severe weather this hurricane season, please don't hesitate to give us a call. We are here for you!
